Canada's Future

In a very fine address by Mr. Graham Spry, secretary of the Association of Canadian Clubs, and printed in "The Canadian Nation," the subject of Canadian unity is dealt with under the title "One Nation, Two Cultures," which was likewise the heading over the article appearing in this column last week. In fact, last week's article was inspired by Mr. Spry's address.

In his speech, Mr. Spry urged that, above all, the two Canadian races should be frank with each other, speak out their feelings freely and courteously, and attack that underlying menace, the fear, the suspicion which ignorance breeds; and "working for common national ends, working the same national institutions, and developing the same national estate, they will learn to know each other, to recognize each as a Canadian, to feel a sense, not of fear, but of partnership." Then he said:

"One nation, two cultures; one nationality, two races; one loyalty, two tongues, on this the Dominion of Canada is founded, on this the partnership rests by solemn contract, by mutual trust. And thus it must abide or perish. Let it abide, and the nation will grow greater, and the world richer that two races, full of spirit, rich in the heritage that time endows, a tongue, a culture, each their own and shared at times in common, may live in amity as one, secure, serene, partners in the development of the noble estate to which we ae fortunate successors. Let it fail, let race seek to dominate race, let prejudice take its rein and ride rough shod through the fine bonds that unite us and Confederation shall perish, and the peoples of Canada be thrust towards a future, dark and impenetrable."

Looking back over the sixty-odd years of Confederation, can any one imagine what the position of the present Dominion of Canada would be had the Canadian people of both races in 1867 not agreed to sink their differences and agree upon compromise policies and enter into a solemn compact with each other, both for the present and the future. Had such agreement not been reached there would have been no Confederation Had there been no Confederation what would in all likelihood be the position anu status of British North America today?

Would it be British? It is extremely doubtful. Long ere this it is highly probable that large sections of what is now Canada would have become merged in the United States. Certain it is that failing Copfederation, the isolated Crown colonies would have remained weak, undeveloped. Instead, we have a great and prosperous Dominion, rapidly forging to the front as one of the great nations of the world, a tower of strength to the Empire, and already exerting no mean influence in the councils of the nations. The union effected by the solmen guarantees of the act of Confederation was not alone the creation of the Dominion; it was the salvation of the country at large.

Not only must the letter of that contract be lived up to, but the spirit must be observed. Failure on the part of the Canadian people, whether of British or French extraction, to recognize both the letter and the spirit of the union effected by Confederation will be fatal to its existence. And if Confederaton fails, what are we to put in its place? Confederation is weakened by sniping tactics on the part of one race against the other, and if Confederation is weakened it may perish. On the other hand, cordial acceptance of the spirit of the Confederation pact, which we all laud annually on Dominion Day, will add strength to the structure, and enable a united Canadian people to resist all attacks upon their sovereignty and develop in peace their great heritage.

As Mr. Graham Spry truly states, any other future for Canada but that bound up in full acceptance of terms and spirit of the Confederation pact is indeed dark and impenetrable.

To Check "FLU," Grippe

Fights the Germs in the Throat Before They Invade Other Parts of the Body.

EFFECTIVE PREVENTIVE MEASURES EXPLAINED

Simple precautions taken now will enable you to fight dreaded "Flu" which is sweeping rapidly through the whole country. The germs of Influenza gain access to the body through the mouth and throat. Keep the throat healthy and you go a long way towards stopping the trouble. An effective means of prevention is to garble the throat three or four times daily with Nerviline. Half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in water makes a most efficient gargle. The germ-killing properties of Nerviline quickly destroy any bacteria in the mouth or throat. If the chest is sore, if the throat is hoarse, if you have a cough—be sure, to rub the neck and chest with Nerviline. Every drop of it will rub in, and out will come the congestion.

Of course it is absolutely necessary to house-clean the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills which stimulate the eliminating organs, and rid the system of disease-breeding wastes. This combination treatment of Nerviline and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give prompt and entirely satisfactory results.

Utilizing Waste Product

Hot Water From Pueblo Factories Cleans Ice From Streets

Hot water as a waste product from ice plants and other factories of Pueblo, is being used by the city highway department to remove snow and ice from the highways. Street sprinklers and flushers are filled with the hot water and driven to the downtown streets. With one sprinkler following another, both directing streams of hot water onto the pavement, snow and ice melt immediately and are drained away. The hot water, obtained free, saves the city large amounts usually spent shoveling and hauling snow off the streets.

PAINS IN THE BACK

These Are Usually Due To a Weakened Condition Of the Blood

The muscles of the back are constantly under heavy strain, and have but little rest throughout the day. They are therefore in need of all the nourishment and strength that plenty of pure red blood can give them. Unless they have this help, you will have backache and continue to have it.

Backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. It is nothing more than the tired, wornout muscles of the back showing their exhaustion because of the lack of good, pure blood. The one generally recognized efficient blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the blood has been improved through the use of this medicine backache disappears. Mrs. F. Fairbairn, Essex, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her in a case of this kind. She says:—"I suffered for nearly three years with a weak back. At times the pains were so bad that I had to walk half doubled over. I had tried several doctors with very little benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and oh, the joy of once more being able to stand up straight without suffering intense pain. After using two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I used eight boxes in all and have not since had a sign of the trouble. I can do all my housework and not feel tired and wornout as formerly. For all this I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

Prisoner For Eight Years

Russian Boy Punished By Father For Joining Red Army

A story of an eight-year imprisonment of a boy by his father in a pit near their hut in the village of Savchukovo, Kursk province, has been brought to Moscow. In 1918 young Tarasoff joined the Red Army and three years later returned to his native village filled with enthusiasm for the new order. His reactionary father told him "the red army marches against the Czars and you must not serve its ranks."

According to the report, that night old Tarasoff dug a deep cave in his garden and binding his son hand and foot threw him into the pit apparently to keep him there until the return of the old order. Recently the father died and the villagers, chancing upon the living grave, extricated the worn and wrinkled man who although only 29 years of age had snow white hair. He was said to have been placed in a hospital.

Expansion Of Manufacturing In Prairie Provinces Expected To Proceed At a Rapid Rate

No sooner does an originally agricultural community tend to become stabilized and develop community centres than an effort begins to build up local industries. This tendency grows as the years pass on even without the additional impetus received when, besides a productive soil, the country is also found to contain valuable minerals. This has been the history of the Prairie provinces, especially in the post-war period, when it has been found that the rich mineral belt of Quebec and Ontario extends westward along the same parallels. Industrialization, therefore, is likely to proceed even more rapidly than heretofore, more especially should the natural resources of these provinces be restored unrestricted.

These provinces, long dependent upon external sources for manufactured products are more than ever set on achieving complete economic independence and are gradually accomplishing it. The period, indeed is rapidly approaching when the cities of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will pride themselves on their industrialization just as do the much older Eastern centres and conduct as ardent a propaganda for the stimulation of their local enterprises. Already in Manitoba the output of manufactured goods is approaching the value of its farm products. Last year its industries turned out goods valued at $159,252,000.

Dominion Government statistics, indeed, indicate that farming is already in second place to industries in that Province now. Revenue from farming in Manitoba in 1927 amounted to $115,074,000, whereas the value of manufacturing production in the Province in 1926 was $132,718,452. Manitoba, being the longest established of the three provinces and the tendency of industries being to move westward, the trend is much more pronounced here than in the sister provinces. According to the Manitoba industrial development board, a 21 per cent. increase was recorded last year in the Province's manufacturing output, the greatest growth being in steel, iron and paper products produced, In the period some sixty-two new industries were established with several other important locations foreshadowed.

The future will see an expansion of manufacturing in the Prairie Provinces at an increasing rate in the consistent effort to reduce the volume of imported necessities. It is not, however, to be anticipated that over the territory as a whole agriculture will ever take second place to manufacturing, but that rather the two will extend along parallel lines, each providing ever larger markets for the other. Industrialization should only increase western Canadian agricultural opportunity by building up a larger domestic consuming population and increasing the need for new farmers.

To Hasten Grain Planting

Day and night grain planting may be tried in Germany to avert a possible serious shortage of bread supplies during the coming year. German agricultural leaders, faced with small crops resulting from the February cold wave, are of the opinion that 24-hour planting is the only solution to the difficulty.

Revised Rules For Hog Grading Adopted

Definite Classification Is Provided For In New Regulations

New hog grading regulations, which have been under consideration by the department of agriculture for a considerable time, have been passed by order-in-council and will become law upon official promulgation it was announced by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture.

The new regulations provide for definite classification of bacon and non-bacon hogs, involving revision of grades so that hogs henceforth will be graded as nearly as possible in accordance with their actual commercial value.

Packers have undertaken to try to maintain the spread of 50 cents per 100 pounds between "selects" and "bacons" and all other grades have been left to find their own market level in accordance with the principle agreed to at the 1920 swine conference in 1927.

The new regulations also provide for the compulsory grading of all hogs at local shipping points in accordance with the official grades.

"During the past year the federal department has had an opportunity to test out the practicability of country grading and are satisfied that it is feasible. Under this new regulation it will now be possible to get the information regarding the grade back to the farmer, as was requested by the producers' representatives at the 1927 swine conference held in Ottawa," Mr. Motherwell's statement says.

Other changes involve strengthening of the wording of the regulations from a legal standpoint, with a view to eliminating as far as possible the need for litigation in their enforcement.

Expansion Of Motor Traffic In Britain

Ownership Of Cars Is Growing By About 100,000 Annually

The notion that the United States has a monopoly on motor traffic expansion is discredited by a report to the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce from Paris on the growth of motor car ownership in Great Britain.

This, it is said, is mounting by about 100,000 cars annually, rising from 384,000 in 1923, to 787,000 in 1927. "This year's figures," the report continues, "will probably be near to the 'potential' 787,000 suggested by the Society of Motor Manufacturers on the basis of national income statistics. The latter body believes, however, that the inclusion of private cars owned by business firms, and the growing popularity of the 'baby' car of seven or eight horsepower, may raise the potential figure of 950,000 or 1,000,000,000.

"Within the home market the British manufacturer has secured 82 per cent. of last year's new car sales in Great Britain—and so long as he enjoys the double protection of 33⅓ per cent. import duty and a taxation system based on horsepower his supremacy does not appear likely to be seriously threatened."

January Building Permits Higher

January's building permits for all Canada have doubled since 1920, having risen from $4,017,024 in that year to $8,364,670 in 1929. This is due, in part, to a natural expansion, and also to the fact that building operations are not now halted in mid-winter as they once were.

Three Prairie Provinces Are Anxious To Extend Boundaries Northward To Arctic Circle

Soviets Suppress Religion

New Law Forbids Any Gathering Of a Religious Nature

Reports come from Russia about new attempts to suppess religion. A new law has been published, by which it is intended to limit by force even private worship. It forbids every gathering or meeting of a religious nature of women, children or young men. Religious libraries or reading rooms are no longer to be maintained. All objects to be used in religious worship are declared national property, and may only remain in the hands of religious communities in the form of a loan. All public worship in public squares, likewise all festivals in hospitals and prisons—are forbidden. In the latter they may only be practiced for those who are seriously ill and who expressly ask for them. These renewed efforts are due to the great increase in religious interest of late amongst the Russian peasants.

Provincial Trade Marks

Indian Symbols Are Suggested To Distinguish Certain Products

The North American Indian was a master of pictorial condensation. Every totem told a story and told it well, and in Western Canada the proposal has been mooted that by a reversion to these totemic types much could be done in the way of devising trade marks for provincial products.

The marking of goods with some distinctive label has become an important factor in economics and there is more in the suggestion than meets the casual eye. The symbols employed by the red man are unique, yet capable of infinite adaptation, and in time we may yet see on commodities a Kootzionick, or the head of a Haida chieftain, informing us at a glance of the country of origin.

Of British Origin

Investigation has disclosed that there is British blood in 87 out of the 95 members of the United States Senate, a fact which may have some influence on the voting when the quota question for immigration is raised again. Among the United States people as a whole the British strain is only 43 per cent., so it would appear to have a particular affinity for politics.

If the Dominion govenment grants the requests of Alberta and Saskatchewan that the northern boundaries of these two provinces be extended to the Arctic Alberta will add approximately seven-tenths to its present area, while Saskatchewan will increase its present area by one and two-fifths of the existing territory.

Alberta covers at present 255,285 square miles of land and water. Premier Brownlee's proposal to extend Alberta's boundaries clear through to the Arctic, would add some 175,000 square miles of new territory to the province.

Saskatchewan's present acreage — land and water—is 251,700 square miles. The northern territory which Premier Gardiner would add to that province, is approximately 360,000 square miles in extent.

The requests, if acceded to, would make Saskatchewan's area in square miles, 611,700, and Alberta's, 430,285 square miles.

The area of the provinces at present is as follows: Quebec, 703,653 square mile; Ontario, 407,262 square miles; Manitoba, 251,822 square miles; Saskatchewan, 251,700 square miles; Alberta, 255,285 square miles; British Columbia, 355,855 square miles.

Extension of the boundaries of Saskatchewan to include the vast sub-Arctic region lying west of the Hudson Bay and south of the Arctic Ocean would add to the province a territory covering between 350,000 and 400,000 square miles, populated by a few hundred Eskimo, Indians, and half-breeds, and a handful of R.C.M.P. officers.

With the extension of boundaries as indicated by Premier Gardiner's request on behalf of the Saskatchewan government, the province would have an area of about 650,000 square miles, or about 53,000 square miles less than the area of Quebec.

Saskatchewan's bid for an outlet to the sea and extended territory in the north has drawn a counter demand from Hon. John Bracken, premier of Manitoba, for more land for Manitoba.

Manitoba has had its boundaries extended three times since the province was formed in 1870 when Manitoba was known as "the postage stamp province," bounded by a line running north and south east of the site of Brandon, and east and west on a line running a little north of Winnipeg.

In 1898 a bill was introduced into the Dominion parliament, and passed without debate, adding 100,000 square miles to the Province of Quebec. In 1912, Acts were passed adding 351,780 square miles to Quebec, 146,000 square miles to Ontario, and 180,000 square miles to Manitoba. A short time before this an Order-in-Council was passed by the Borden government granting Ontario a strip of land 250 miles long and five miles wide through the Province of Manitoba to the Nelson River to give Ontario access to Fort Nelson.

Segrave, crashed to the sand dunes and death at 202 miles an hour, snuffing out, at the same time, the life of Charles Traub, a news reel cameraman. The accident occurred before 20,000 spectators who lined the mile course and saw Bible flash by the starting point. Had such agreement not been reached there would have been no Confederation Had there been no Confederation what would in all likelihood be the position and status of British North America today?

Would it be British? It is extremely doubtful. Long ere this it is highly probable that large sections of what is now Canada would have become merged in the United States. Certain it is that failing Copfederation, the isolated Crown colonies would have remained weak, undeveloped. Instead, we have a great and prosperous Dominion, rapidly forging to the front as one of the great nations of the world, a tower of strength to the Empire, and already exerting no mean influence in the councils of the nations. The union effected by the solmen guarantees of the act of Confederation was not alone the creation of the Dominion; it was the salvation of the country at large.

Not only must the letter of that contract be lived up to, but the spirit must be observed. Failure on the part of the Canadian people, whether of British or French extraction, to recognize both the letter and the spirit of the union effected by Confederation will be fatal to its existence. And if Confederaton fails, what are we to put in its place? Confederation is weakened by sniping tactics on the part of one race against the other, and if Confederation is weakened it may perish. On the other hand, cordial acceptance of the spirit of the Confederation pact, which we all laud annually on Dominion Day, will add strength to the structure, and enable a united Canadian people to resist all attacks upon their sovereignty and develop in peace their great heritage.

As Mr. Graham Spry truly states, any other future for Canada but that bound up in full acceptance of terms and spirit of the Confederation pact is indeed dark and impenetrable.

To Check "FLU," Grippe

Fights the Germs in the Throat Before They Invade Other Parts of the Body.

EFFECTIVE PREVENTIVE MEASURES EXPLAINED

Simple precautions taken now will enable you to fight dreaded "Flu" which is sweeping rapidly through the whole country. The germs of Influenza gain access to the body through the mouth and throat. Keep the throat healthy and you go a long way towards stopping the trouble. An effective means of prevention is to garble the throat three or four times daily with Nerviline. Half a teaspoonful of Nerviline in water makes a most efficient gargle. The germ-killing properties of Nerviline quickly destroy any bacteria in the mouth or throat. If the chest is sore, if the throat is hoarse, if you have a cough—be sure, to rub the neck and chest with Nerviline. Every drop of it will rub in, and out will come the congestion.

Of course it is absolutely necessary to house-clean the system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills which stimulate the eliminating organs, and rid the system of disease-breeding wastes. This combination treatment of Nerviline and Dr. Hamilton's Pills will give prompt and entirely satisfactory results.

Hot Water From Pueblo Factories Cleans Ice From Streets

Hot water as a waste product from ice plants and other factories of Pueblo, is being used by the city highway department to remove snow and ice from the highways. Street sprinklers and flushers are filled with the hot water and driven to the downtown streets. With one sprinkler following another, both directing streams of hot water onto the pavement, snow and ice melt immediately and are drained away. The hot water, obtained free, saves the city large amounts usually spent shoveling and hauling snow off the streets.

PAINS IN THE BACK

These Are Usually Due To a Weakened Condition Of the Blood

The muscles of the back are constantly under heavy strain, and have but little rest throughout the day. They are therefore in need of all the nourishment and strength that plenty of pure red blood can give them. Unless they have this help, you will have backache and continue to have it.

Backache seldom or never means kidney trouble. It is nothing more than the tired, worn-out muscles of the back showing their exhaustion because of the lack of good, pure blood. The one generally recognized efficient blood builder is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. When the blood has been improved through the use of this medicine backache disappears. Mrs. F. Fairbairn, Essex, Ont., tells what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for her in a case of this kind. She says:—"I suffered for nearly three years with a weak back. At times the pains were so bad that I had to walk half doubled over. I had tried several doctors with very little benefit. A friend urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I did so, and oh, the joy of once more being able to stand up straight without suffering intense pain. After using two boxes there was no doubt they were helping me. I used eight boxes in all and have not since had a sign of the trouble. I can do all my housework and not feel tired and wornout as formerly. For all this I thank Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

If your dealer does not keep these pills you can get them by mail at 50c a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.

Prisoner For Eight Years

Russian Boy Punished By Father For Joining Red Army

A story of an eight-year imprisonment of a boy by his father in a pit near their hut in the village of Savchukovo, Kurak province, has been brought to Moscow. In 1918 young Tarasoff joined the Red Army and three years later returned to his native village filled with enthusiasm for the new order. His reactionary father told him "the red army marches against the Czars and you must not serve its ranks."

According to the report, that night old Tarasoff dug a deep cave in his garden and binding his son hand and foot threw him into the pit apparently to keep him there until the return of the old order. Recently the father died and the villagers, chancing upon the living grave, extricated the worn and wrinkled man who although only 29 years of age had snow white hair. He was said to have been placed in a hospital.

Expansion Of Manufacturing In Prairie Provinces Expected To Proceed At a Rapid Rate

No sooner does an originally agricultural community tend to become stabilized and develop community centres than an effort begins to build up local industries. This tendency grows as the years pass on even without the additional impetus received when, besides a productive soil, the country is also found to contain valuable minerals. This has been the history of the Prairie provinces, especially in the post-war period, when it has been found that the rich mineral belt of Quebec and Ontario extends westward along the same parallels. Industrialization, therefore, is likely to proceed even more rapidly than heretofore, more especially should the natural resources of these provinces be restored unrestricted.

These provinces, long dependent upon external sources for manufactured products are more than ever set on achieving complete economic independence and are gradually accomplishing it. The period, indeed is rapidly approaching when the cities of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta will pride themselves on their industrialization just as do the much older Eastern centres and conduct as ardent a propaganda for the stimulation of their local enterprises. Already in Manitoba the output of manufactured goods is approaching the value of its farm products. Last year its industries turned out goods valued at $159,252,000.

Dominion Government statistics, indeed, indicate that farming is already in second place to industries in that Province now. Revenue from farming in Manitoba in 1927 amounted to $115,074,000, whereas the value of manufacturing production in the Province in 1926 was $132,718,452. Manitoba, being the longest established of the three provinces and the tendency of industries being to move westward, the trend is much more pronounced here than in the sister provinces. According to the Manitoba industrial development board, a 21 per cent. increase was recorded last year in the Province's manufacturing output, the greatest growth being in steel, iron and paper products produced. In the period some sixty-two new industries were established with several other important locations foreshadowed.

The future will see an expansion of manufacturing in the Prairie Provinces at an increasing rate in the consistent effort to reduce the volume of imported necessities. It is not, however, to be anticipated that over the territory as a whole agriculture will ever take second place to manufacturing, but that rather the two will extend along parallel lines, each providing ever larger markets for the other. Industrialization should only increase western Canadian agricultural opportunity by building up a larger domestic consuming population and increasing the need for new farmers.

To Hasten Grain Planting

Day and night grain planting may be tried in Germany to avert a possible serious shortage of bread supplies during the coming year. German agricultural leaders, faced with small crops resulting from the February cold wave, are of the opinion that 24-hour planting is the only solution to the difficulty.

Revised Rules For Hog Grading Adopted

Definite Classification Is Provided For In New Regulations

New hog grading regulations, which have been under consideration by the department of agriculture for a considerable time, have been passed by order-in-council and will become law upon official promulgation it was announced by Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture.

The new regulations provide for definite classification of bacon and non-bacon hogs, involving revision of grades so that hogs henceforth will be graded as nearly as possible in accordance with their actual commercial value.

Packers have undertaken to try to maintain the spread of 50 cents per 100 pounds between "selects" and "bacons" and all other grades have been left to find their own market level in accordance with the principle agreed to at the 1920 swine conference in 1927.

The new regulations also provide for the compulsory grading of all hogs at local shipping points in accordance with the official grades.

"During the past year the federal department has had an opportunity to test out the practicability of country grading and are satisfied that it is feasible. Under this new regulation it will now be possible to get the information regarding the grade back to the farmer, as was requested by the producers' representatives at the 1927 swine conference held in Ottawa," Mr. Motherwell's statement says.

Other changes involve strengthening of the wording of the regulations from a legal standpoint, with a view to eliminating as far as possible the need for litigation in their enforcement.

Expansion Of Motor Traffic In Britain

Ownership Of Cars Is Growing By About 100,000 Annually

The notion that the United States has a monopoly on motor traffic expansion is discredited by a report to the American section of the International Chamber of Commerce from Paris on the growth of motor car ownership in Great Britain.

This, it is said, is mounting by about 100,000 cars annually, rising from 384,000 in 1923, to 787,000 in 1927. "This year's figures," the report continues, "will probably be near to the 'potential' 787,000 suggested by the Society of Motor Manufacturers on the basis of national income statistics. The latter body believes, however, that the inclusion of private cars owned by business firms, and the growing popularity of the 'baby' car of seven or eight horsepower, may raise the potential figure of 950,000 or 1,000,000,000.

"Within the home market the British manufacturer has secured 82 per cent. of last year's new car sales in Great Britain—and so long as he enjoys the double protection of 33⅓ per cent. import duty and a taxation system based on horsepower his supremacy does not appear likely to be seriously threatened."

January Building Permits Higher

January's building permits for all Canada have doubled since 1920, having risen from $4,017,024 in that year to $8,364,670 in 1929. This is due, in part, to a natural expansion, and also to the fact that building operations are not now halted in mid-winter as they once were.

Three Prairie Provinces Are Anxious To Extend Boundaries Northward To Arctic Circle

If the Dominion govenment grants the requests of Alberta and Saskatchewan that the northern boundaries of these two provinces be extended to the Arctic Alberta will add approximately seven-tenths to its present area, while Saskatchewan will increase its present area by one and two-fifths of the existing territory.

Alberta covers at present 255,285 square miles of land and water. Premier Brownlee's proposal to extend Alberta's boundaries clear through to the Arctic, would add some 175,000 square miles of new territory to the province.

Saskatchewan's present acreage — land and water—is 251,700 square miles. The northern territory which Premier Gardiner would add to that province, is approximately 360,000 square miles in extent.

The requests, if acceded to, would make Saskatchewan's area in square miles, 611,700, and Alberta's, 430,285 square miles.

The area of the provinces at present is as follows: Quebec, 703,653 square mile; Ontario, 407,262 square miles; Manitoba, 251,822 square miles; Saskatchewan, 251,700 square miles; Alberta, 255,285 square miles; British Columbia, 355,855 square miles.

Extension of the boundaries of Saskatchewan to include the vast sub-Arctic region lying west of the Hudson Bay and south of the Arctic Ocean would add to the province a territory covering between 350,000 and 400,000 square miles, populated by a few hundred Eskimo, Indians, and half-breeds, and a handful of R.C.M.P. officers.

With the extension of boundaries as indicated by Premier Gardiner's request on behalf of the Saskatchewan government, the province would have an area of about 650,000 square miles, or about 53,000 square miles less than the area of Quebec.

Saskatchewan's bid for an outlet to the sea and extended territory in the north has drawn a counter demand from Hon. John Bracken, premier of Manitoba, for more land for Manitoba.

Manitoba has had its boundaries extended three times since the province was formed in 1870 when Manitoba was known as "the postage stamp province," bounded by a line running north and south east of the site of Brandon, and east and west on a line running a little north of Winnipeg.

In 1898 a bill was introduced into the Dominion parliament, and passed without debate, adding 100,000 square miles to the Province of Quebec. In 1912, Acts were passed adding 351,780 square miles to Quebec, 146,000 square miles to Ontario, and 180,000 square miles to Manitoba. A short time before this an Order-in-Council was passed by the Borden government granting Ontario a strip of land 250 miles long and five miles wide through the Province of Manitoba to the Nelson River to give Ontario access to Port Nelson.

Soviets Suppress Religion

New Law Forbids Any Gathering Of a Religious Nature

Reports come from Russia about new attempts to suppess religion. A new law has been published, by which it is intended to limit by force even private worship. It forbids every gathering or meeting of a religious nature of women, children or young men. Religious libraries or reading rooms are no longer to be maintained. All objects to be used in religious worship are declared national property, and may only remain in the hands of religious communities in the form of a loan. All public worship in public squares, likewise all festivals in hospitals and prisons—are forbidden. In the latter they may only be practiced for those who are seriously ill and who expressly ask for them. These renewed efforts are due to the great increase in religious interest of late amongst the Russian peasants.

Provincial Trade Marks

Indian Symbols Are Suggested To Distinguish Certain Products

The North American Indian was a master of pictorial condensation. Every totem told a story and told it well, and in Western Canada the proposal has been mooted that by a reversion to these totemic types much could be done in the way of devising trade marks for provincial products.

The marking of goods with some distinctive label has become an important factor in economics and there is more in the suggestion than meets the casual eye. The symbols employed by the red man are unique, yet capable of infinite adaptation, and in time we may yet see on commodities a Kooziconick, or the head of a Haida chieftain, informing us at a glance of the country of origin.

Of British Origin

Investigation has disclosed that there is British blood in 87 out of the 95 members of the United States Senate, a fact which may have some influence on the voting when the quota question for immigration is raised again. Among the United States people as a whole the British strain is only 43 per cent., so it would appear to have a particular affinity for politics.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 116. 12-19.

Explanations and Comments

Isaiah's Heavenly Vision, 6.1-4.—In the year that King Uzziah died, I saw the Lord sitting upon a throne, high and lifted up: thus the prophet Isaiah begins his account of his vision and call to service. "This is more than a date; this is an experience!" exclaims Dr. C. R. Brown. Isaiah had a vision, a dream, in which God was vividly real to him.

"Isaiah saw God. Do men see Him today? Was He any nearer to Jerusalem than He is to London or New York? Did that old Hebrew possess faculties different from ours? Can we see and know God? What do we mean by seeing and knowing God? A spirit cannot be seen with physical eyes. We mean that we are so convinced of the reality of God that our thinking and living are determined by that conviction; so sure of Him that we live as if we saw Him by physical sight."—Amory H. Bradford.

"The conception of Isaiah's vision is singularly pure and lofty. It is a worshipper's thoughts when he draws near to God. The vision is but the service in the temple transfigured. The prophet fell into a trance while holding the service and musing on its meaning. Suddenly the house and service and the ministers became transfigured; the walls went apart, and the roof lifted itself up till it seemed the high dome of God's palace on high under which he stood, and the Lord the King sat upon His throne receiving the adoration of all holy beings."—A. B. Davidson. And His train filled the temple. There was

"No face; only the sight
Of a sweeping garment vast and white
With a heaven that I could recognize."—Browning.

"The king was dead, but God was alive. Who shall say that it was not something of the same strength of faith that came to James A. Garfield, when, speaking to a discouraged multitude in New York after the assassination of Lincoln, he exclaimed, 'God reigns; and the government of Washington still stands!'"—J. T. McFarland.

Queer Rule In India

There is a rule in India that a younger daughter may not marry before the elder. In case the younger wishes to marry however, the way out is to marry the elder daughter to a tree or large flower, due care being taken that it be not a pine, poplar or elder, for these are sacred and it is difficult to get a divorce from any of these.

Women, in some provinces of India, have been eligible to vote since 1924.

Outstanding Authorities

on Farming and Live Stock Offer You Practical Information and Advice Based on Many Years of Successful Experience.

The greatest array of practical, useable ideas for the Canadian Farmer ever gotten together in one book and it is

FREE

This book is offered as a contribution to the development of farming and live stock breeding in Canada. A group of outstanding farmers and agricultural authorities have put into writing the methods and findings which in years of experience, have proved most successful.

The practical experiences of these men have been compiled for Imperial Oil Limited, by the Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Alberta, and put into the book "Field and Farm Yard" which is a veritable storehouse of information and advice based upon actual and successful farm operation.

This book is offered to you free by Imperial Oil Limited.

"Field and Farm Yard" has been written by specialists in farming and stock breeding. There are articles on feeding beef steers and dairy cows, written by Thos. McMillan, M.P. and S. G. Carlyle, Alberta Live Stock Commissioner. Selecting sires for herds, flocks, and studs is discussed in each breed by men competent in this business, among them being W. A. Dryden, Col. Bartley Bull, Col. Robert McEwen, W. L. Carlyle and R. A. Wright. Grain farming is treated by Dr. C. E. Saunders, producer of Marquis Wheat. All recommendations are based on the practical experience of farmers who are now using them to increase their incomes.

In the introduction which Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Federal Minister of Agriculture, has personally contributed to this book he writes in part: "The information is of such a useful character and covers such a wide field in agriculture that the book cannot fail to be of interest and value to any and every farmer into whose hands it may fall."

"Field and Farm Yard" is handsomely illustrated. Among its many illustrations are pictures of Canadian prize-winners and champions in different breeds of live stock. These in themselves are of special interest.

You will find the book intensely interesting at first reading and the longer you have it and the more you use it, the more you will value it as a handy reference.

Fill in the coupon and write for your copy of "Field and Farm Yard" now.

MARSHAL FOCH IS BURIED WITH IMPRESSIVE RITES

Paris.—Marshal Foch was laid to rest near the tomb of Napoleon. More than a million heads bowed as the great soldier was borne on a gun carriage from the stately gothic nave of Notre Dame Cathedral to the simple and severe chapel of the Invalides.

Church and State, separated in France for more than twenty years, united for the day to provide the devout Christian soldier with a national funeral unparalleled in pomp and magnificence. The world has seldom seen its like before and it is not probable that such a show of solemn splendor will be repeated in this age.

The Republic of France and the Church of Rome were joined by ten nations whose armies Foch commanded in the greatest of wars in heaping honors upon the bier of the modest master of ten million warriors.

Most of the civilized world was represented at the church funeral ceremony, and in the cortege that moved with military pomp and precision through the streets and squares of Paris from Notre Dame to the golden dome of the Invalides.

The great outpouring of people who watched the funeral procession provided the crowning stone of the great edifice of honor and love which a grateful nation and friendly peoples of other lands have steadily built to the greater glory of Foch's name since the day he was chosen from all military commanders of the Allies to lead 10,000,000 fighting men under 10 flags.

Premier Poincare, who was president of France during the war, said in his brief funeral address that Foch had had no other ambition than to serve, and had wished no other recompense than the assurance of having accomplished his duty.

Wants Records Corrected

American Soldier Reported "Killed In Action" Asks To Be Declared Alive

Santa Rosa, Cal.—Thomas R. Smith, of this city, reported "killed in action" during the World War, is very much alive and has appealed to the American Legion in an effort to have himself declared so.

For 10 years the government has been insisting that Smith's sister, Mrs. Nellie Johnson of this city, accept $10,000 in war risk insurance for her brother's "death."

Mrs. Johnson and her brother both steadfastly refuse to admit he is "dead," and now Smith has asked the American Legion to aid in straightening out the records at Washington.

Appointed Poultry Promoter

Regina, Sask.—Appointment of W. H. McLellan, Saskatoon, as provincial poultry promoter, effective May 1, was announced by Hon. C. M. Hamilton, minister of agriculture. Mr. Hamilton said the appointment was made on the recommendation of the Saskatchewan Poultry Breeders' Association, in recognition of the growing imporance of the industry in the province.

Chinese Law Courts Busy With Divorces

Number Of Cases Greatly Increased Under Nationalist Rule

Shanghai.—Divorce has come to China to stay. With the National Government more firmly entrenched and the women of the country quickly seizing their newly found freedom, the Chinese law courts daily are handling an increasing number of divorce actions.

Last year a record was set in Shanghai courts with a total of more than 1,400 divorces, a gain of more than 800 over 1927. In 1926, before the establishment of Nationalists rule in Shanghai, divorces failed to reach the hundred mark.

Survey of the 1928 divorces based on statistics compiled by the United Press, reveals that spring and summer are the "big" seasons, with fall and winter trailing quite a distance behind.

More than 60 per cent. of 1928's divorces were filed between May 1 and September 30, the remaining 40 per cent. in the other seven months of last year. December wound up the year with 75 cases, just a little more than 5 per cent. of the year's total.

Disastrous Prairie Fire

Large Strip Of Country Swept Bare By Flames

Regina.—A prairie fire started northwest of Nedeauville, Sask., destroyed thousands of acres of pasture, the buildings on three farms, and was responsible for a man being sent to the hospital at Medicine Hat where his wounds, though serious, are not thought to be fatal.

A strip of country about ten miles wide and twenty-five miles long was swept bare. At its closest to the main line of the C.P.R., it was ten miles away, north of Tompkins.

George Campbell lost his barn and outbuildings but managed to save his stock, some of this being singed when running through the fire. His loss is estimated at $1,000.

John Fisher and family were driven from their home, which was destroyed by the flames, and are staying with neighbors. Mr. Fisher also lost all his buildings and feed for spring work on the farm. His loss is placed at $1,500.

Fred Robinson, by plowing a fireguard around his buildings saved these, but lost all his feed, valued at $300.

Advertise Zeppelin Cruise

Plan Trip From Germany To America In May

Frankfort-On-the-Main, Germany.—For what is believed to be the first time in history, the advertising columns in a daily newspaper were invoked to secure passengers on a long airship pleasure cruise.

The Frankfurter Zeitung carried the following advertisement inserted by the Hamburg-American line Berlin Travel Bureau:

"The second Zeppelin cruise, to the Mediterranean and the Orient, will start about April 15 from Friedrichshafen. Passage per person 3,000 marks (about $750).

"Zeppelin cruise to America about May 10. Passage from Friedrichshafen per person, $2,000.

Train Crew Arrested

Responsible For Wreck At Drocourt According To Coroner's Finding

Parry Sound, Ont.—Responsibility for the wreck of two Canadian National trains at Drocourt with a death toll of at least fourteen was placed on the crew of the northbound train No. 3 in the written verdict of Special Coroner J. B. Broughton.

Criminal proceedings were at once instituted against the three surviving members of the crew and charges of manslaughter were laid against Engineer J. V. Alexander, Fireman E. Riley and Rear End Brakeman Charles Gorrie.

The arrest of the three trainmen followed the verdict of the coroner's inquest on the death of Horace Smith, one of the victims of the wreck. According to the verdict the collision of the two fast trains was "due to the neglect of the crew of Train No. 3 in running past the meeting place at which they had orders to stop."

It is expected the three accused trainmen will appear for trial at the spring assizes, which open here May 14.

A debate will also be held on the subject: "A national policy or exploitation of the radio." Hearings will be held in Vancouver and Victoria.

Public sittings will be held later in Edmonton, Calgary, Saskatoon, Regina, Moose Jaw, Brandon, Winnipeg, Port Arthur and Fort William, followed by a tour of Ontario, Quebec Maritime provinces and a visit to a number of centres in the United States.

The final report of the commission is expected to be submitted to the government before Parliament prorogues.

GIANT GERMAN OCEAN LINER IS PREY OF FLAMES

Hamburg, Germany.—The mysterious fire which virtually destroyed the new North German Lloyd liner Europa, was expected to have an important effect on the North Atlantic traffic war.

The Europa, a 46,000-ton vessel, was being built for five-day service with the Bremen between New York and the English Channel, and was considered a challenge to the Cunard White Star and Hamburg American lines.

The ship caught fire while only a few workmen were aboard her. She was scheduled to make her maiden voyage in July and construction was nearing completion when the fire broke out suddenly.

Cause of the fire probably never will be known, it was said, since it started in four places simultaneously deep in the hold. Experts did not believe it was arson, however.

The vessel was insured for 40,000,000 marks (about $9,500,000) but the loss was estimated at about 50,000,000 marks (about $11,890,000). Shipyard engineers claimed later, however, that the damage was not that large.

Although the ship was not a total loss several experts said it would be useless to rebuild it. The North German Lloyd Company was expected to refuse to accept it from the builders, Blohm and Voss.

The fire was spectacular. Starting before dawn, it was not brought under control until 3 p.m. The boilers, machinery, hull and lower decks escaped the fire.

None of the few workmen aboard when the fire started were injured, but a fireman was overcome. Eight hundred men were thrown out of work by the fire.

Planning Survey Of Pacific Great Eastern

B.C. Seeking Services Of Alberta's Deputy Minister Of Railways

Victoria.—J. Callaghan, deputy minister of railways and telephones for the province of Alberta, has been in conference with Premier S. F. Tolmie and cabinet ministers in connection with the proposed survey of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, it was learned. The services of Mr. Callaghan, while the survey is being made, is sought by the government, as he was connected with the P.G.E. work when the line was first laid.

Premier Holmie stated that as yet it has not been decided whether the services of Mr. Callaghan could be obtained.

Lightning Strikes Peace Tower

Electric Storm At Ottawa Turned Day Into Night

Ottawa.—Batteries of a recent severe electric storm centred their bombardment upon Parliment Hill and lightning playing directly over the buildings, struck the Peace Tower and caused the mighty pile of granite to shudder with the shock.

Lightning conductors prevented any serious damage. Only the tower elevator was put out of order. A second blinding flash struck at the southeast corner of the centre block, just above the rooms of the press correspondent, causing some consternation. There was no damage here, however.

The storm made the day as dark as night.

Mr. Agar says it is practically assured that the federal government will contribute and almost certain the city would.

A twenty dollar gold piece that was insured for a thousand dollars and that sold for twelve hundred was recently shipped by Canadian Pacific Express. The coin was one of seven struck by the government in the Cariboo district at the time of the gold rush, it being thought that a mint could best be operated on the spot. This proved uneconomical, however, and after seven pieces had been issued, the project was abandoned. The coin in question was shipped by the S.S. Montclare to a numismatist in England.

Over 97% of the total investments of the Canadian Pacific Railway and all its varied enterprises are in Canada.

Most fruits, except those indigenous to the tropics, or sub-tropics, are now grown in British Columbia. Apples, apricots, cherries, peaches, plums, prunes, nectarines, figs, loganberries, raspberries, strawberries, grapes, almonds and other less hardy fruits and nuts are now grown commercially. Apples have been grown for 17 years, rising in volume of production from 220,000 to 3,000,000 bushels.

With 99 arrivals scheduled at the Port of Montreal and Quebec during the 1928 season, the Canadian Pacific sets up a new record for one line sailing its ships via the St. Lawrence route. There will be 74 arrivals and departures at Montreal and 25 at Quebec, the season opening with the arrival on April 26th of the Montclare and the Duchess of York. The latter will be on her maiden voyage of the St. Lawrence. The first arrival at Quebec will be the Empress of Scotland, May 4th, after a winter of cruising in the Mediterranean.

One little pig went to market; and low and behold there were eight little pigs when the shipment arrived. It was a sow, and en route seven little pigs were born. Whether the shipper or the express company should pay the fares of the seven extra and unexpected pigs is a matter that has not been decided yet.

Thirty thousand tons of railway material—trucks and steel framing for box cars—will shortly leave Vancouver for the Orient, as equipment for the Trans-Siberian Railway. The order for this material was placed thirteen years ago, but delivery was halted with the outbreak of the Russian Revolution, and the equipment held in the Canadian Pacific Railway's yards at Coquitlam until conditions for delivery were more favorable.

Vancouver's growth since its incorporation in 1886 is revealed by the official estimate of the population of the new city by the assessment commission which places it at 228,193 for the city proper. A reliable but unofficial estimate of the population of Greater Vancouver is 285,000 exclusive of New Westminster. Greater Vancouver includes the City of North Vancouver, the district of North Vancouver and the municipalities of Burnaby and West Vancouver. Greater Vancouver and New Westminster jointly have a population of about 302,000, or about half the population of the entire province.

"Oh yes," he replied absently.

"You were gone for some time this morning she stated.

"Yes," he concurred, "I went up to bring Connie."

"Oh!"

Janet's fine eyebrows lifted slightly, and she looked at Donald with a curious intentness. "Why didn't she come?"

"She wasn't home."

Her woman's intuition long ago had told here that the "woodsprite"—as Donald called Connie—was madly in love with him. As she looked at him now and noticed his pre-occupied air, a pang of jealousy shot through her heart like an arrow. Was it possible that he had begun to realize that the wild girl of the woods was not a child, and that a love for her had been kindled in his heart? The thought made her feel faint and she tried to put it from her mind.

Lunch was finished now and they were walking back to the lake. Douglas invited the party to take a trip around the lake in a motor-boat, to which they assented gleefully.

Janet hesitated as Donald turned away with Wainwright. "Aren't you coming Mr. McLean?" she called.

Donald turned and shook his head. "I may be needed here," he said briefly.

Janet flushed to the roots of her dark hair and bit her lip in anger. She was not used to being thwarted in her desires.

Donald and Wainwright seated themselves on a bench under the willows and lighted cigarettes. Donald was ill at ease. The sound of Connie's tragic sobbing was ringing in his ears. He could see her little figure writhing on the ground in a tempest of grief that had torn at his heart-strings. He sprang involuntarily to his feet and began pacing the ground with quick, nervous strides. Wainwright glanced up at him interrogatively.

"You seem worried," he volunteered.

"I am," Donald admitted briefly.

Donald was in a welter of indecision. How should he broach this delicate subject? Although poor as he the proverbial church-mouse, Connie's father had the pride of Lucifer. There was natural dignity in his bearing, a certain aloofness in his manner, that in no way interfered with his unfailing courtesy, but had always precluded exchange of intimacies. He had resided in this wilderness for many years, but none could say that they had any more knowledge of his affairs at this moment than on the day of his arrival.

Donald decided to take the plunge. He sat down on the bench beside Connie's father and related the scene he had witnessed that morning — of Connie's preening before the mirror with the magazine page pinned to the logs; of the struggle with her hair; of the flour sack, and of the piteous sobbing of the heart-broken child.

Wainwright's face flushed painfully. There was a look of poignant suffering in his grave eyes. Of all the races in the world, the English—especially of the better class—fight most stoically to hide their distress.

Wainwright leaned forward, his throat working convulsively as he struggled to regain composure.

"I hope you do not consider me presumptuous," said Donald, a note of anxiety in his tone.

Wainwright's hand reached forth to clasp Donald's firmly. "No, I do not doubt your sincerity. An inordinate sense of pride has kept me in my present circumstances. This circumstance you have related has brought me to a realization that it is a selfish pride, as it has denied Connie the privileges to which she is entitled. There is nothing I can say," he went on in bitter self-condemnation, "that can even partially condone or palliate my stupidity. I should have known that she would require proper clothing now that she is grown up. As a matter of fact"—he paused, his distress acute—"my finances are at a low ebb."

"How old is Connie?" asked Donald, hoping to relieve Wainwright's embarrassment.

"Nineteen."

Donald's head came up with a jerk. "What!" he almost shouted.

"She is nineteen," Wainwright reiterated, a peculiar expression in his eyes as he noticed Donald's bewilderment.

"Nineteen!" Donald re-echoed, a bemused look on his face. "Great Scot! This is a surprise. I thought of Connie as being not more than fourteen or fifteen."

"Connie's healthful outdoor life has tended to keep her young, and her mode of dressing enchances the youthful effect," said her father as he sat down wearily, a far-away look in his eyes. "Her mother," he went on softly, a tremor in his voice, "was just like her; at the age of twenty-five she looked almost a child." He turned to Donald. "No doubt you have wondered why I buried myself in this wilderness?"

Donald nodded. At this moment they were interrupted by members of the Sports Committee, who wanted Donald's advice on a matter pertaining to the afternoon's programme.

It was evident to Donald as he withdrew that Wainwright had been about to disclose his past history, a history which had been locked in his heart these many years.

At three o'clock the crowd began drifting toward the race-course. The centre of the valley had been cleared of under-brush, and the long grass burned under the watchful eye of the fire-ranger. A small creek and a few swampy places had been "corduroyed" with cedar poles and then covered with soil. A judges' stand, with a few hastily erected seats for Janet's party, stood near the finishing point. The horse-race as has been said, was to be the feature event of the day. The crowd surged happily from the lake-shore to line up in orderly ranks about the oval.

The brilliant and diversified colours of the Klootchmen's skirts and head-gear showed in bright contrast to the drab wearing apparel of the white men. The Siwash Indians were dressed in nondescript clothing as to trousers and coat, but one and all wore wide-brimmed cowboy hats and displayed silk handkerchiefs of gorgeous hues, knotted at the throat to drape their shoulders carelessly.

Three husky farmers' sons from Pemberton rode to the starting-line amid hearty hand-clapping and shouting from their friends. A swarthy-skinned rider, mounted on a spirited black cayuse, came prancing through the crowd. He lifted his hat and smiled in acknowledgment of the plaudits of the spectators. This was Joe Lafonte, the half-breed who had won first prize at the Lillooet races for the past two seasons.

The wise ones averred that Paul John, of the Indian contingent, would give him a hard race. Paul John's cayuse was young, but the previous year he had run the half-breed's horse a close second. Money was being placed on all sides, particularly by the Indians, who are inveterate gamblers. Amid an excited babble in Chinook, nine Indian riders came laughing and shouting, with much waving of hats, to prance about and display their horsemanship before the admiring crowd.

Donald, with Andy, Gillis and Wainwright, stood leaning over the edge of the judges' stand watching the animated scene below.

At this moment there was an agitation at the far end of the oval, where the crowd opened to admit a horse and rider that came tearing down the course like the wind.

"Look!" Donald shouted excitedly as he seized Wainwright's arm. "It's Connie!"

Down the course, riding like a spirit of the woods, came the girl, her golden hair blowing about her face, sitting astride her mettlesome horse and riding as if the wilderness belonged to her alone.

Pegasus was not used to crowds. With arched neck and quivering flanks he reared on his hind-legs to poise an instant, then leaped forward like a rabbit. Connie sat on the bare back of her adored cayuse as though a part of the animal, her slender body moving in gentle undulations in perfect co-ordination with the movements of the horse. She was hard set to keep from running over the other riders who sat mouths agape.

Connie was unknown to the greater part of the crowd. To them this child-like equestrienne, with her mass of shining hair, appeared as an apparition. Her firm little hands soon checked her turbulent mount, who stood trembling with nervousness. The crowd gave her a rousing welcome as soon as they had recovered from their astonishment.

"Who is she? Where does she come from?" they shouted.

Connie kept her eyes fixed on the ground. She was outwardly calm and serene; inwardly she was as nervous as her fretting cayuse, and did not dare raise her flushed face to meet the battery of eyes around her.

Reduce the Acid

Sick stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated. Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour.

Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless, tasteless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. Since its invention, 50 years ago, it has remained the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

COMES WITH A MESSAGE OF HEALTH

THE sun is the all-powerful life producer, Nature's universal disinfectant and germ destroyer, as well as stimulant and tonic. WINDOLITE is the sun's most important ally.

Medical research has definitely proved that from the point of view of Health and Hygiene, the most effective among the sun's rays, are the Ultra-Violet rays, which possess the greatest power for the prevention and cure of disease and debility.

Science has further established that ordinary window glass does not allow the passage of Ultra-Violet rays, so that by using glass we are artificially excluding these vital health-giving rays. Therefore, the invention of WINDOLITE has completely satisfied the long-felt want. Exhaustive experiments have conclusively proved that it is a most effective substitute for glass, that it freely admits the Ultra-Violet rays, and that its use has a most beneficial effect on the growth and development of plants and chickens and on the well-being of cattle, enabled for the first time to have healthy light instead of darkness in their sheds.

Indeed, the discovery of WINDOLITE has during the last six years completely revolutionized gardening, given a new stimulus to poultry breeding, increasing the egg-laying capacity and fertility of chickens, has greatly improved the health of cattle and is now being used in domestic and household requirements.

Do you know why

rides so much more comfortably than other cars?

Here are three important reasons

McLAUGHLIN-BUICK'S famous cantilever springs—the most expensive type of springs employed on any car in the world, coupled with the famous McLaughlin-Buick torque tube drive—are designed solely for comfort, not for transmission of power, and provide the maximum degree of riding restfulness.

McLaughlin-Buick's Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers . . front and rear . . absorb the jars and jolts of the roughest roads, thus adding still further to the buoyancy of McLaughlin-Buick travel.

And McLaughlin-Buick's deep, soft seat-cushions, together with the lounging spaciousness of McLaughlin-Buick Interiors, provide unequalled riding luxury for every passenger.

McLaughlin-Buick offers the highest standard of motoring comfort ever attained; and this is one vital reason why more motorists drive McLaughlin-Buicks than any other fine car.
